

Call for Clinician-Educator to Join MPO Program Faculty

Northwestern University Prosthetics-Orthotics Center (NUPOC) invites individuals with a passion for clinical teaching to join our faculty as a full-time Lecturer, Instructor or Assistant Professor of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation in the Feinberg School of Medicine. This clinician-educator position is non-tenure eligible. Rank will be dependent upon experience and qualifications.

Candidates must be an ABC Certified Prosthetist-Orthotist (CPO) - or have an equivalent ISPO-recognized Category I PO credential - with at least 5 years of clinical, teaching and/or research experience in the field. A masters' degree or higher is preferred. Primary responsibilities will include: lecturing; demonstrating clinical methods; supervising student management and fitting of patient models; and creating selected presentations for our Masters in Prosthetics-Orthotics (MPO) program. Online teaching responsibilities within our Blended Learning curriculum is also required.

Prior teaching or lecturing experience would be a plus, as would a proven record of excellence within a similar academic institution. Qualified candidates with additional clinical credentials in a closely related field, such as physical or occupational therapy, are encouraged to apply.

NUPOC teaching faculty members are encouraged to remain actively involved in scientific research and clinical care. Up to 20% release time from teaching responsibilities can be arranged to enable well-qualified individuals to pursue these goals.

Strong candidates who have not yet earned a master's degree will be considered and, if selected, required to earn the appropriate credential within a reasonable period of time, consistent with their teaching duties. Northwestern University offers a tuition benefit to faculty who are advancing their academic education.

Northwestern provides a generous benefit package including life, health & dental insurance; multiple tax-deferred retirement programs with a University contribution; and paid holiday, personal & vacation days. Initial salary will be commensurate with the ability and qualifications of the selected candidate.

If you would like to live and work in one of America's most vibrant lakefront urban regions, joining a solid team of experienced teachers and researchers in our award-winning facilities, please forward a Curriculum Vitae and cover letter explaining your strengths and interests to:

NUPOC Teaching Faculty Search Committee
680 North Lake Shore Drive, Suite 1100
Chicago, Illinois 60611
NUPOC@Northwestern.edu

To ensure full consideration, applications must be received by April 15, 2018; proposed start date for this position is July 1, 2018.

Northwestern University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer of all protected classes, including veterans and individuals with disabilities. Women, racial and ethnic minorities, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply. Hiring is contingent upon eligibility to work in the United States.